TECHBRIDGE GIRLS MISSION

Techbridge Girls re-engineers the way Black, Indigenous, and girls* of color from marginalized communities experience STEM by catalyzing out-of-school time STEM educators and STEM professionals into equity educators and advocates through training and curricula that promote access, belonging and persistence.

*TBG serves Black, Indigenous, and all girls of color, which includes cis girls, trans youth, gender non-conforming, and/or non-binary youth who experience(d) girlhood and economic insecurity as a part of their journey.

ABOUT TECHBRIDGE GIRLS

Techbridge Girls is an award-winning national nonprofit organization bringing science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) education to all girls across the US. For over 20 years, TBG has reengineered the way STEM education is taught, centering girls’ brilliance and potential, with an emphasis on increasing STEM access, belonging, and persistence for BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, and people of color) youth from marginalized communities.

TBG believes that without BIPOC girls’ experiences, values, interests, voices, and brilliance, we will never experience the full possibilities of what STEM can do for our world, and have set a goal to reach one million girls by 2030.

TBG takes a holistic approach towards engaging girls emotionally and intellectually, by equipping educators with gender and culturally responsive practices, engaging families to support their youths’ persistence, and connecting role models to inspire and encourage, ensuring that girls leave the TBG program equipped to bring their brilliance and unique experiences to thrive in the STEM revolution. This approach continues to set TBG apart as a STEM equity leader.

With an annual organizational budget of approximately $4 million and 20+ employees, Techbridge Girls is in the midst of bold growth to increase its impact.
TBG COMMITMENT TO JUSTICE, EQUITY, DIVERSITY, AND INCLUSION (JEDI)

“TBG’s Intersectional Anti-Racist work aims to disrupt and challenge racism and gender bias in STEM fields and culture by igniting STEM interest and belonging in BIPOC girls and gender-expansive youth, who will one day change the STEM field and the world. We work toward systemic change with educators, challenging them to think of their work with youth and administrators as critical to creating more just educational systems.

We recognize the truths and the challenges we face living in a racist, sexist, and capitalist culture and the necessity to develop innovative ways to break down these systemic barriers to create new pathways for girls’ futures. We promote a workplace built on community, respect, empathy, and compassion that foster an environment where our team can have tough conversations to ensure we all are working together towards the same goal.”
